Karen Russo

Karen is a Money Momentum Coach, creator of CFO Camp, and the award-winning author of The Money Keys: Unlocking Peace, Freedom and Real Financial Power, endorsed by her teacher Dr. Michael Bernard Beckwith of Oprah's Super Soul Sunday.

She also published the Grow Yourself Grow Your Wealth: Prosperity Practices for Faith and Focus pocket guide, with weekly tools, Money Monday and Faithful Friday. Karen was selected as a contributor in the book Think and Grow Rich for Women, a collaboration with Sharon Lechter and the Napoleon Hill Foundation.

Karen has been featured on TV's MSNBC AM Joy, Fox News and WABC TV New York, in The Arizona Republic, in Phoenix Woman and Science of Mind magazines.

Karen earned an MBA in Finance from Columbia University. She was recognized as Salesperson of the Year in her position as an account executive with an industry leading sales training firm. She continues to deepen her expertise in sales and leadership and travels the world for clients such as Motorola, Roche, Visa, and Willis.

Karen's spiritual education includes a Masters in Consciousness Studies and a Minister Ordination in Religious Science. She is a favorite guest teacher at New Thought spiritual centers.

As an active member of NAWBO and eWomen, Karen is passionate about helping professional women identify, value and leverage both feminine and masculine approaches to building and enjoying wealth.

Karen regularly contributes her time, money and energy to causes committed to justice, inclusion and empowerment such as Andre House, Gabriel's Angels and United Way. She lives in the American southwest, with her beloved big fella, Bill, and celebrated her 50th birthday by running her 4th marathon.
